
WELCOME

With this, our 6th annual conference, we are pleased to welcome participants from across the country and around the world to Detroit and Wayne State University, home of the Center for the Study of Citizenship, the first center dedicated to citizenship studies.

I invite all of you to look at our impressive list of presenters and to acknowledge our conference committee members, especially the chair and moving force behind the conference: Liette Gidlow. I also wish to thank co-chair John Reed and committee members Sandra Hobbs and Kelly Young. Thanks too to Petra Orloff for her design of the program. Special thanks to the Center's graduate assistants Renee Bricker and Ann Marie Wambeke, whose titles belie their extraordinary contributions to the Center.

Please take a moment to introduce yourselves and thank them for their work.

I also would like to thank the Canadian Leadership Program and the Government of Canada, The Lion Fund for Global Citizenship, the WSU Irvin D. Reid Honors College and its Dean, Jerry Herron; and the Michigan Humanities Council for their generosity and support. Special thanks to the Law School and its Dean, Robert Ackerman, for providing us with the space to hold the conference.

We hope everybody will enjoy the conference, learn much, and plan to return next year!

Marc Kruman
Director, Center for the Study of Citizenship

SCHEDULE of EVENTS

THURSDAY, MARCH 26, 2009

6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.

Registration and Refreshments, Westin Book Cadillac Motor Bar - Conference participants only.

FRIDAY, MARCH 27, 2009

8:15 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

Registration, Law School Atrium

8:00 a.m. to 8:45 a.m.

Breakfast Refreshments, Law School Atrium

9:00 a.m. to 10:30 a.m.

Session I: Panels 1 - 3

10:45 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.

Keynote Address, Partrich Auditorium

12:15 p.m. to 1:15 p.m.

Lunch, Law School Atrium - Conference participants only.

1:30 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Session II: Panels 4 - 7

3:15 p.m. to 4:45 p.m.

Session III: Panels 8 - 10

6:15 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Dinner, Angelina's Bistro - Conference participants only.

Meet in the Law School Atrium, or, dinner on your own.

SATURDAY, MARCH 28, 2009

8:30 a.m. to 9:00 a.m.

Breakfast Refreshments, Law School Atrium

8:45 a.m. to 10:15 a.m.

Session IV: Panels 11 - 14

10:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Session V: Panels 15 - 17

12:15 p.m. to 1:10 p.m.

Lunch, Law School Atrium - Conference participants only.

Book signing with Will Kymlicka and Margaret Somers, Law School Atrium

1:15 p.m.

Special Remarks, Partrich Auditorium

1:30 p.m. to 2:45 p.m.

Session VI: Panel 18

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

WILL KYMLICKA

Will Kymlicka: a leader in the field of multiculturalism and political philosophy, the author of six books published by Oxford University Press, a former President of the American Society for Political and Legal Philosophy, the editor of the “Citizenship, Democracy and Ethnocultural Diversity Newsletter,” the Canada Research Chair in Political Philosophy at Queen’s University, and a visiting professor in the Nationalist Studies Program at the Central European University in Budapest. His works, which also include 13 editor and co-editor credits and many, many articles, have been translated into 30 languages. His curriculum vita is nearly 36 pages long.

In 1984, Will Kymlicka received his first professional accolade, the Commonwealth Scholarship, the year in which he also received his B.A. in philosophy and political studies from Queen’s University. He was off to a rousing start. Every year since, he has been honored in some form or another, winning research prizes, governmental grants, a variety of fellowships, and writing awards. His most recent book, Multicultural Odysseys: Navigating the New International Politics of Diversity, won the North American Society for Social Philosophy Book Prize and was a finalist for the 2008 Lionel Gerber Book Prize in International Affairs. He is also a Trudeau Foundation Fellow.

Will Kymlicka is committed to scholarly pursuit. He sits on a number of advisory boards for various academic centers and research schools. He also referees articles for many academic journals and publishers, including Oxford University Press, Cambridge University Press, Harvard University Press, Princeton University Press, Routledge, and so on. The list is lengthy.

Even so, Will Kymlicka is known as a political theorist who is deeply engaged in real-world problems. He serves on numerous committees, boards, and councils for foundations and organizations and has also worked as an advisor to the Government of Canada. In addition to his scholarly presentations, he has spoken to the United Nations, the World Bank, the Carnegie Council on Ethics and International Affairs, the Ministry of Indigenous Affairs and First Nations, the Canadian Jewish Congress, the European Commission for Democracy, and, among many more, the National Army of Bolivia.

In the 22 years since Will Kymlicka received his doctorate in philosophy from Oxford University, he has been at the forefront of his field, studying how societies cope with issues generated by ethnic, racial, and linguistic diversity. He is a teacher, a researcher, a writer, a speaker, an advisor, an editor, and a policy analyst. His work is preeminent. His influence is sweeping. And his dedication is absolute. Undeniably, Will Kymlicka is at the heart of citizenship studies.

- Petra Lina Orloff

PROGRAM

THURSDAY, MARCH 26, 2009

6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.

Registration and Refreshments, Westin Book Cadillac Motor Bar

Conference participants only.

FRIDAY, MARCH 27, 2009

8:15 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

Registration, Law School Atrium

8:00 a.m. to 8:45 a.m.

Breakfast Refreshments, Law School Atrium

9:00 a.m. to 10:30 a.m.

Session I: Panels 1 – 3

Concurrent Panel Sessions

Panel 1: Outsiders Within

Classroom 1515

Moderator: David Weinberg, History, Wayne State University

Kyrgyzstani migrants in Kazakhstan and Russia and the “citizenship of convenience”

Vanessa Ruget, Political Science, Salem State College

Representing undocumented immigrants by translating informal ties into formal status

Michael Sullivan, Politics, Princeton University

Contesting the boundaries of “Muslim citizenship” in modern Pakistan

Sadia Saeed, Sociology, University of Michigan

Negotiating the space of belonging: French-Algerians from colonial subjects to populations dangereuses

Irina Mihalache, Journalism and Mass Communication, Carleton University

Panel 2: Agency and Participation

Classroom 1525

Moderator: Terri Fine, Politics, University of Central Florida

“My Voice will not be heard”: attitudes towards parliamentary representation in Australia 1929-33

Jacqueline Dickenson, School of Historical Studies, University of Melbourne

Representation in participatory planning processes: the case of Isawiyah in East Jerusalem

Ron Amit, Social and Behavioral Sciences, Arizona State University

Panel 3: Gay Marriage, Heteronormativity, and Citizenship

Classroom 1535

Moderator: Jon Corvino, Philosophy, Wayne State University

Conceptualizing sexual citizenship through an analysis of marriage discourse

LindaBeth Nichols, Sociology, Monroe Community College

Initiative, referendum and inequality: citizenship and the American voter

David M. Parker, History, California State University -- Northridge

PROGRAM

10:45 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.

Keynote Address, Partrich Auditorium

The Rise and Fall of Multicultural Citizenship

Will Kymlicka, Canada Research Chair in Political Philosophy, Queen's University

12:15 p.m. to 1:15 p.m.

Lunch, Law School Atrium

Conference participants only.

1:30 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Session II: Panels 4 – 7

Concurrent Panel Sessions

Panel 4: Youth and Democratic Belonging

Seminar Room 2269

Moderator: Cheryl Deep, Media Director and Editor, Merrill Palmer Skillman Institute, Wayne State University

The impact of citizenship on the economic mobility of immigrant youth

Skye Allmang, The Heller School of Social Policy and Management, Brandeis University

The reasonable self-determination of small children: psychological citizenship in the mid-twentieth century United States

Christy Regenhardt, History/The Eleanor Roosevelt Papers, George Washington University

Youth participation for development: examining the representations of citizenship in development discourses

Rina Egbo, Sociology and Anthropology, Carleton University

Before the “Greatest Generation” was great: civic youth leadership camps and the construction of American citizenship, 1935-1943

Bryan Nicholson, History, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Panel 5: Stories of Citizenship: Citizenship and Expressive Culture

Seminar Room 2261

Moderator: Robert Aguirre, English, Wayne State University

A study of official representations of citizenship and national identity in Turkey with the case of Nâz Hikmet

Bilgen Sutcuoglu, European Research Center Faculty of Arts and Sciences, Kingston University

The problem of citizenship after 9/11: national belonging and the specificity of South Asian American identity in The Namesake

Sue Brennan, Women's Studies, Ohio State University

Paternal justice and state interest

Allison Tait, Yale Law School

Transforming civic ideals: murals and morals in Chicago's public schools in the interwar period

Sylvia Rhor, Art History, Carlow University

Panel 6: WWI and Its Aftermath

Seminar Room 2255

Moderator: Joe Lunn, History, University of Michigan-Dearborn

Conscientious objection and citizenship in Canada during the First World War

Amy Shaw, History, University of Lethbridge

PROGRAM

Panel 6 continued...

Communists as patriots? The Young Communist League and citizenship debates in Britain and the United States, 1933-1939

Joel Lewis, History, Saginaw Valley State University

The embrace of the state: the passport and citizenship in interwar Europe

Tom Osborne, History, University of North Alabama

Panel 7: The European Union, the Marketplace, and Integration

Seminar Room 2249

Moderator: Doug Forsyth, History, Bowling Green State University

Citizenship and the bond of legitimacy: the case of identity for European citizens

Francesca Strumia, Harvard Law School

A genealogy of ethnic entrepreneur(ship) in Germany

Baris Ulker, Central European University

The subcontracting practices in the Turkish health care sector: a state ethnography

Taylan Acar, Political Science and International Relations, Yale University/Boğaziçi University

3:15 p.m. to 4:45 p.m.

Session III: Panels 8 – 10

Concurrent Panel Sessions

Panel 8: Rethinking Belonging: The German Case

Seminar Room 2269

Moderator: Andrew Port, History, Wayne State University

Transformation of the notion of citizenship: the emergence of naturalized political elites

Demrişel Nergiz, Bielefeld Graduate School in History and Sociology

How should citizenship be represented? A German case

Robin Harper, Behavioral Sciences - Political Science, York College

Who is a foreigner? Contesting the meaning of 'Germanness' and citizenship among second generation immigrant youth in contemporary Germany

Daniel Williams, Sociology, University of Maryland College Park

Panel 9: National Bodies and Gendered Citizenship

Seminar Room 2261

Moderator: Jacalyn Harden, Anthropology, Wayne State University

Wives and daughters of martyrs and contemporary citizenry practices in Iran

Shirin Saeidi, Centre of International Studies, University of Cambridge

Constructing "consumer citizens": Paramount's marketing of MISS LULU BETT (1921)

Heidi Kenaga, English, Wayne State University

Performance anxieties: white masculinity and American citizenship in the 1980s

Mobina Hashmi, TV/Radio, City University of New York -- Brooklyn

Palin's populism: An examination of one woman's attempt to recuperate America through Re-memberance

Marylou Naumoff and Elizabeth Durham Smith, Communication, Wayne State University

PROGRAM

Panel 10: Education as a Site of Civic Contention

Seminar Room 2255

Moderator: Bob Pettapiece, Education, Wayne State University

Reading between the lines: high school textbooks and the making of unequal citizens
Jade-Celene Keller, Political Science, University of California -- Santa Barbara

Good and bad Muslims, good and bad citizens: representing Muslims in the headscarf debate in France, 2003-2004
Shazia Iftkhar, School of Journalism & Mass Communication, University of Wisconsin-Madison

Iranian school textbooks and the discursive formations of the self and the Islamic revolution of 1978-79: representations of gender, race, ethnicity, and social class in the narratives of nation
Amir Mirfakhraie, Sociology, Kwantlen Polytechnic University

Refugees and religious expression in U.S. public schools: exploring Will Kymlicka's theory of polyethnic group rights as a framework for refugee student rights
Bruce Collet, Education, Bowling Green State University

6:15 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Dinner, Angelina's Bistro - Conference participants only.

Meet in the Law School Atrium, or, dinner on your own.

SATURDAY, MARCH 28, 2009

8:30 a.m. to 9:00 a.m.

Breakfast Refreshments, Law School Atrium

8:45 a.m. to 10:15 a.m.

Session IV: Panels 11 – 14

Concurrent Panel Sessions

Panel 11: American Citizenship from the Revolution to the Civil War

Seminar Room 2269

Moderator: Stephen R. Ortiz, History, Bowling Green State University

To fight the dual allegiance: imaging Christian citizenship in antebellum America
Allison O'Maben Malcom, History, University of Illinois -- Chicago

Is a slave any woman? Slavery, sex, and claims of citizenship in State of Missouri v. Celia, a Slave
Joan Sitomer, Political Science, Kalamazoo College

The citizen as good neighbor: Loyalist self-representations as good citizens in the aftermath of the American Revolution in South Carolina
Rebecca Brannon, History and Political Science, University of South Carolina -- Aiken

Panel 12: Heritage, Museums, and the Representation of Citizenship

Seminar Room 2261

Moderator: Jeff Abt, Art and Art History, Wayne State University

Museum-making: "New" Canadians re-imagine heritage and citizenship
Susan Ashley, Communication and Culture, York University -- Toronto

"We need something of our own": representing ethnicity, diversity, and national heritage in Singapore
Emily Stokes-Rees, University of Oxford

Museum narratives: citizenship in twenty-first century Belgium
Karen Shelby, Fine and Performing Arts, Baruch College, City University of New York

PROGRAM

Panel 13: Migrants and Minorities

Seminar Room 2255

Moderator: Karen Miller, History, Oakland University

Triple minorities representing majority interests

Terri Fine, Political Science, University of Central Florida

Multiculturalism as classification struggle: the paradox of multiculturalism in South Korea

Nora Kim, Sociology, University of Wisconsin - Madison

The development of the concept of nationality in modern Japan: nationality (kokuseki) and the family register (Koseki)

Yuko Onishi, International Relations, Ritsumeikan University

The “Armenianness” and citizenship in Armenia

Turgut Kerem Tuncel, Istanbul Bilgi University

Panel 14: Citizenship and Urban Performance

Seminar Room 2249

Moderator: Mary Anderson, Theatre, Wayne State University

The flâneur: an allegory of cosmopolitan city-zenship?

Bart van Leeuwen, Philosophy, Erasmus University Rotterdam

Against the odds: street citizenship and the urban picturesque in the art of John Thomas Smith

Isaac Land, History, Indiana State University

American Trilogy: Tresconsciousness and the African-American psyche

Lhea Copeland

10:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

Session V: Panels 15 – 17

Concurrent Panel Sessions

Panel 15: Book Panel

Seminar Room 2269

Genealogies of Citizenship: Markets, Statelessness, and the Right to have Rights

Margaret Somers, History and Sociology, University of Michigan

Commentators:

Will Kymlicka, Philosophy, Queen's University

Ron Aronson, History, Wayne State University

Krista Brumley, Sociology, Wayne State University

Panel 16: Friend or Foe? Representing Wartime Citizenship in the U.S. during the War of 1812, WWI and WWII

Seminar Room 2261

Moderator: Elizabeth Faue, History, Wayne State University

War and dual citizenship: representations of Japanese American citizenship during WWII

Cherstin Lyon, History, California State University -- San Bernardino

Alien enemies, or naturalized citizens? Representations of British-born residents in the United States during the War of 1812

John O'Keefe, History, George Washington University

“A status which does not exist anymore”: Austrian and Hungarian enemy aliens in the United States, 1917-1921

Nicole Phelps, History, University of Vermont

PROGRAM

Panel 17: First Peoples

Seminar Room 2255

Moderator: Sandra Hobbs, Classical and Modern Languages, Literatures, and Cultures, Wayne State University

Representing aboriginal peoples in Canada's nation-building project

Janique Dubois, Political Science, University of Toronto

Civilizing the white man: American Indian elites define citizenship in Oklahoma, 1907-1940

Kerry Wynn, History, Washburn University

12:15 p.m. to 1:10 p.m.

Lunch, Law School Atrium - Conference participants only.

Book signing with Will Kymlicka and Margaret Somers, Law School Atrium

1:15 p.m.

Special Remarks, Partrich Auditorium

Dennis Moore, Public Affairs Officer, Consulate General of Canada

1:30 p.m. to 2:45 p.m.

Session VI: Panel 18

Panel 18: Book Panel

Partrich Auditorium

Multicultural Odysseys: Navigating the New International Politics of Diversity

Will Kymlicka, Canada Research Chair in Political Philosophy, Queen's University

Commentators:

Margaret Somers, History and Sociology, University of Michigan

Bruce Collet, Education, Bowling Green State University

Jacalyn Harden, Anthropology, Wayne State University

INTERNATIONAL SCHOLARS

Australia

Jacqueline Dickenson

Canada

Susan Ashley

Janiqu Dubois

Rina Egbo

Will Kymlicka

Irina Mihalache

Amir Mirfakhraie

Amy Shaw

Germany

Baris Ulker

Japan

Yuko Onishi

The Netherlands

Bart van Leeuwen

Turkey

Bilgen Sutcuoglu

Turget Kerem Tuncel

United Kingdom

Shirin Saeidi

Sadia Saeed

SPONSORS

Government of Canada Gouvernement du Canada

WAYNE STATE
UNIVERSITY

IRVIN D. REID
HONORS COLLEGE

WAYNE STATE
UNIVERSITY

LAW SCHOOL

Michigan Humanities Council

*Michigan People, Michigan Places
Our Stories, Our Lives*

Lion Fund for Global Citizenship

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Liette Gidlow would like to thank John Reed, Sandra Hobbs, and Kelly Young for their assistance in assembling the program; Marty Hershock for his help in finding moderators; Petra Orloff for skilled program design; Renee Bricker and Ann Marie Wambeke for help with myriad tasks; and Renee in particular for her outstanding work as a liaison between the Center, the program committee, and participants.